vision and values

Since its formation in 1992, PDR has grown to become one of the largest independent construction companies in the north of England.

We have developed an impressive reputation as a revolutionary construction resource for many leading-edge organisations. This reputation has been built upon the fact that we share the same innovative vision as the private sector companies and public sector bodies we serve. This vision, along with our industry-wide capabilities, has helped us to create more than just 'buildings' for our clients.

We remain dedicated to exceeding our customers' expectations and aim to achieve this by continuously improving the quality, performance and care of all our services.

Our organisational structure and capacity enables us to undertake contracts across a wide range of industry sectors, including Automotive, Commercial, Education, Industrial and Retail.

We believe in developing long-term partnerships with our customers, which bring 'added value' in addition to excellent service, reliability, competitive pricing and timely completion of projects.
